

Altaterra Kft. Privacy Notice

All companies in the VELUX Group respect and protect your privacy. This Altaterra Kft. Privacy Notice ('Privacy Notice') is meant to help you understand why we collect personal data about you, the types of personal data we collect, how we collect it and for how long we keep it, with whom we share it, as well as your rights. We also explain how we keep your data secure.

This Altaterra Kft. Privacy Notice complies with the Data Protection Act 2018 and the UK General Data Protection Regulation (Regulation (EU) 2016/679) ("UK GDPR").

We, Altaterra Kft. (Hereinafter 'Altaterra'), with its registered office at Hungary, 9431 - Fertőd, Malom köz 1., under registration number HU13543970, e-mail: dataprotection@altaterra.eu is the data controller for your personal data.

Why do we process personal data and the lawful bases for collection

The main reason we collect, use, and store your data is to allow us to provide our services to you. "Service", "our service" and similar descriptions mean conducting business with you/your organisation and assisting you with inquiries, sales processes, and claims.

We also process information about your use of the services for business development purposes, to inform you of our business operations, products, and services through marketing, and to improve our services through any feedback you give us. We may also process your personal data for contractual and recruitment purposes and to comply with legal obligations.

We process personal data based on different legal bases as listed below.

Performance of a contract, including a purchase – Article 6(1)(b) of the UK GDPR

- When we process personal data in relation to a contract, our legal basis is ‘performance of a contract’, including a purchase.

Consent – Article 6(1)(a) of the UK GDPR

- When we send out a newsletter about our products, we do this based on your consent. When the lawful basis for processing is consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time.

Legal obligation – Article 6(1)(c) of the UK GDPR

- If we share your personal data with law enforcement agencies or other governmental bodies, we share this because we have a legal obligation to do so.

Legitimate interest – Article 6(1)(f) of the UK GDPR

- We have a legitimate business interest in processing your data, for example, when we assist you with enquires.

How do we collect your personal data

Directly from you

In most cases, personal data is collected directly from you or generated as part of the use of our services, products, and channels. We collect personal data you provide to us, when you request products, services, or information from us, register with us, participate in public forums, use a chatbot or other activities on our digital platforms and apps, respond to customer surveys, or otherwise interact with us. We collect information through various technologies, e.g., cookies. For cookies, we refer to our website.

From our business partners

In some cases, we can collect your personal data from our business partners, when they need our assistance to provide you with the best possible service.

From your public website

In some cases, we collect your personal data on your company websites, when we want to offer you our services.

Links to other websites

This website contains links to other websites (such as Facebook, Google+, YouTube, and Pinterest) to which this Privacy Notice does not apply. Please note that we do not endorse other websites and their content. We encourage you to read the privacy policies of each website you visit.

Automated decisions

Altaterra uses automated decision-making in processing your personal data for some services and products. An example is our fraud prevention and detection efforts on our online platforms.

You may request that Altaterra provides information about the decision-making methodology and ask us to verify that the automated decision has been made correctly.

We may reject the request, as permitted by applicable law, including when providing the information would result in a disclosure of a trade secret or would interfere with the prevention or detection of fraud or other crime. However, generally in these circumstances we will verify that the algorithm and source data are functioning as anticipated without error or bias.

How long do we keep your personal data

We will only keep your personal data for as long as it is necessary for the purposes described in this Privacy Notice. This means that the retention periods will vary according to the type of the information and the reason that we have the information.

Examples of retention time:

- Contact details with contractual terms etc. will be stored while your account is active or for as long as needed to provide services to you.
- We will store the photo and testimonials for as long is necessary and as described in a contract.
- Personal data are kept until the end of a recruitment process or from withdrawal of the consent (if consent is given for future recruitments).
- For compliance with, e.g., anti-corruption regulations, we will keep the data accordingly to laws which we are obliged to comply with.

We will also retain your personal data where this is advisable to safeguard or improve our legal position (for instance in relation to statutes of limitations, security, litigation, or regulatory investigations).

Who do we share your personal data with

Our company is a part of the VELUX Group, which operates globally. We share your personal information within the VELUX Group, but only if it is necessary to fulfil the purpose for which we are processing your personal data. All entities in the VELUX Group have entered into an Intercompany Data Processing Agreement and/or joined agreement where everyone follows the same procedures when processing personal data, ensuring that the same level of security is maintained throughout the Group; dividing the roles and responsibilities between companies of the VELUX Group. If two or more companies act as joint controllers, each of the joint controllers is obliged to independently:

- Be the first contact for you.
- Fulfil the information obligations referred to in this Privacy Notice.
- Exercise your rights provided in this Privacy Notice.
- Deal with privacy breach Notices and privacy complaints.

We may also share your personal data with selected third parties, including but not limited to:

- Business partners, suppliers, and sub-contractors that we cooperate with to deliver you the best services during the support and sales process, including, for example, logistic providers and outsourced customer services.
- Technology providers, for example, analytics, tracking technologies, targeting and re-targeting technologies, and search engine providers that assist us in the improvement and optimisation of our platforms, as well as companies who provide us with website support and hosting.
- Advertisers and advertising networks that use data to select and serve relevant adverts to you and others if you have given your consent.
- Social networking sites such as Facebook, Instagram, and Google, if required, when processing for marketing purposes and based on your consent.
- With other parties to ensure the safety and security of our customers, to protect our rights and property, to comply with legal processes, or in other cases if we believe in good faith that disclosure is required by law.
- VELUX Group companies or third parties who operate digital platforms and tools on behalf of our company to provide services connected with our activities (e.g., points collection programs, cashback campaigns, sweepstakes, and training).

When we cooperate with external service providers, we enter into a data processing agreement, if relevant. These service providers are prohibited from using your personal data for purposes other than those requested by us or required by law.

Transfer to countries outside the European Economic Area (“EEA”)

As a global organisation with offices and operations throughout the world, we will transfer personal data collected by us on an aggregated or individual level to various divisions, subsidiaries, joint ventures and affiliated companies of the VELUX Group around the world located inside or outside the EEA for the purposes stated above and in accordance with applicable laws, as well as to sub-contractors to Altaterra (data processors) for storage and service purposes. Your personal data will not be disclosed to anyone outside the VELUX Group unless permitted or required under applicable legislation and where necessary subject to appropriate written assurances from third parties who have access to your personal data, in which they must guarantee that they will protect the data with security measures designed to provide an adequate level of protection.

Unless you are otherwise notified, any transfers of your personal data from within the EEA to third parties outside the EEA will be based on an adequacy decision or are governed by the EU-Commission Standard Contractual Clauses and/or Binding Corporate Rules. Any other, non-EEA originating, international transfers of your personal data, will take place in accordance with the appropriate international data transfer mechanisms and safeguards.

You can always request a copy of the transfer agreements, which includes the transfer of personal data, by sending an e-mail to dataprotection@altaterra.eu

Data security

The security, integrity, and confidentiality of your personal data is important to us. We have implemented technical, administrative, and physical security measures that are designed to protect your personal data from unauthorised access, disclosure, use, and modification. From time to time, we review our security procedures to consider appropriate recent technologies and methods. Please be aware that despite our best efforts, no security measures are perfect or impenetrable.

Your privacy rights

The Data Protection Act 2018 and the UK General Data Protection Regulation (Regulation (EU) 2016/679) ("UK GDPR") provides you, as the data subject, with the following rights in respect of the personal data we store about you:

Your rights	Legal basis	Elaboration
Access to your data	UK GDPR article 15	You have the right to request information about whether Altaterra processes personal data relating to you, and if so, you have the right to request a copy of the personal data we have processed. There are some exemptions, which means you may not always receive all the data we process.
Request rectification	UK GDPR article 16	At any time, you have the right to request correction of any incorrect or incomplete personal data we may process on you.
Request erasure	UK GDPR article 17	You have the right to request deletion of your personal data depending on the processing activity, and under certain circumstances, before we would normally be obligated to cease processing.
Request restriction of processing	UK GDPR article 18	You have the right to request the restriction of processing which means that you can request that Altaterra restricts the use of your personal data in certain limited circumstances.

Your rights	Legal basis	Elaboration
Withdraw your consent	UK GDPR article 7(3)	You have the right to withdraw your consent at any time by opting out in the e-mail or by contacting us. However, this will not affect our right to process personal data obtained prior to the withdrawal of your consent, or our right to continue parts of the processing based on other legal bases than your consent.
Data portability	UK GDPR article 20	Under certain conditions, you have the right to receive the personal data you provided to us in a machine-readable format where the processing is based on your consent or a contractual fulfilment.
Right to object	UK GDPR article 21	If you are not satisfied with how we process personal data in Altaterra, you can send your objections to dataprotection@altaterra.eu . However, it only applies in certain circumstances, and we may not need to stop the processing of your personal data if we can give legitimate reasons to continue using your personal data. If a complaint is made, the name and contact details of the complainant must be provided to Altaterra.

If you have any questions regarding the specific personal data we process or retain about you, or if you want to exercise your rights, please contact dataprotection@altaterra.eu

We will respond to your request to exercise any of your rights within one month, but we have the right to extend this period by two months. If we extend the response period, we will inform you within one month of your request.

If you consider that we have failed to resolve the complaint satisfactorily, you may file a complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office. You can find the contact details of the Information Commissioner's Office on their website.

Changes to this Altaterra Privacy Notice

From time to time, we may change this Privacy Notice to accommodate the latest technologies, industry practices, regulatory requirements, or for other purposes. At all times, we will post the most recent version on our digital platforms. We advise you to read the Privacy Notice regularly.
